

Trane Optional Extended Warranty Labor Rate Registration

Per the guidelines of the Extended Warranty program, you have the opportunity each year to adjust your labor rate. The labor rate must be reasonable for your location and should be set at the same rate that you would charge any other customer. The Extended Warranty Department reserves the right to review your rate with the sales office or distributor and refuse any labor rate that is unreasonable. Labor rate changes not received prior to the end of the first week in March of the current year will default to the rate currently registered for the dealer in the Extended Warranty Department file.

If you use a Flat Rate price book (i.e. Callahan/Roach, Flat Rate Plus) and you register the labor rate which drives the Flat Rate price book, you may not charge us for travel time as this is included in the labor rate. You may charge for diagnostic time (1/2 hour) at your registered labor rate on covered repairs. You may choose to register a more traditional time and material labor rate and retain the ability to charge for allowable travel time. Once a labor rate is established for the calendar year, you may not change the rate during the year, and it will apply to all claims where service is performed during the calendar year specified. By signing below, you acknowledge that you agree to the conditions above.
